Moroccan cookery at FAWAKAY VILLAS

Where private villa meets boutique hotel

Oozing authentic Moroccan glamour, Fawakay is a relaxed, secluded and enchanting hotel situated just a 20 minute drive from both the heart of Marrakech Medina and the airport - the perfect spot for a weekend of Moroccan cookery.

This weekend is suitable for anyone with a love of food and cooking. Using locally-sourced ingredients bought at the Medina and under the watchful eye of Bouchera, our long-standing chef here at Fawakay, you will spend the weekend creating delicious Moroccan tagines and salads.

The hotel cleverly combines the very best of a boutique hotel and private villa holiday and was voted Winner of the 2018 World Travel Awards for Morocco's Greenest Hotel.

Run by owners Dawn and Francis Boys-Stones, the Fawakay complex is set in 3.5 acres of lush, rose-scented gardens, through which winding pebble paths lead to each villa – and where you are likely to meet the two friendly resident donkeys (Norman and Freddy).

The gorgeous swimming pool area has extensive, luxurious poolside seating for both shade and sun lovers, as well as an expanse of grassy lawn with more seating and table tennis. The fabulous, expansive rooftop terrace with views over to the Atlas Mountains is the perfect spot for sun salutations. At Fawakay it is always easy to find your own space.

In addition to the cookery classes, Fawakay has a hammam and massage room as well as a small shop selling Moroccan clothing, homewares and beauty products. Meals are served either poolside or in the winter bar and dining area. Vegetarian and vegan dishes are available - please just ask when making the booking.
